

NEW RUSSIA TO BE NAMED AFTER U. S.

Petrograd Makes Republic Almost a Certainty by Action; People Making Known Desire

Grave Fear Felt for Safety of Czar; Socialists Demand the Imprisonment of Ex-Emperor

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEADERS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PETROGRAD, March 24.—New Russia is likely to bear the name "The United States of Russia" if the people in Petrograd are to have their say. At least the form of government will be republican. Whether the name will be adopted is a question of the future, but the people are making their desire known.

The Russian peasant's mind is principally fixed on the land question. The breaking up of great estates and equal opportunities to all. This question solved satisfactorily the peasant cares for little else.

Duma delegates today were scattering to all quarters of the empire for the purpose of explaining to the people in distant parts exactly what has happened. Doubtless they will bring back to Petrograd an accurate review of sentiment on the form of government.

In the meantime the council of workmen, soldiers and deputies, numbering 1200, continues its administration as organized on the first day of the revolution. Demands of various factions, however, are moderating. The assembly has effected a compromise with the new cabinet in which the cabinet agreed to await decision by a constituent assembly and not to attempt to precipitate action.

Organization of a social democratic party throughout Russia in the hope of strong representations of that element in the constituent assembly is under way.

This additional example of the dawn of a new era in Russia has been seen today—the men waiting in line at the tram stations voluntarily ruled "women and children first" in the crowds to save them from the terrible crush due to insufficiently of street cars. Russia's "liberty loan" will be for three billion roubles (approximately $1,500,000,000), issued at 85 and bearing 5 per cent, according to information today.

ARREST ASKED.

BERLIN, via Saville, wireless, March 24.—Indictment of Nicholas Romanoff, the former Czar of Russia, is demanded by the Socialists. They say: "The Czar is a criminal. He is under arrest."

The governor general of Irkutsk, Siberia, and the president of the municipality of Moscow are among the latest monarchists arrested.

The governor of Irkutsk, Siberia, and a number of other monarchist leaders.

Prince Alexander of Odenburg, a Russian prince who was formerly in Petrograd on a special mission when he was seized and taken back and put in jail.

PETROGRAD, March 24.—Fears on the part of the members of the provisional government that fanatical radicals may attempt to assassinate the former Czar have been aroused by agitation of the past few days.

It was this anxiety, it was stated today, which led to the arrest of the former Czar and his wife in the new palace at Tsarskoye-Selo.

It now develops that Nicholas Romanoff was not on his way to his estates in Livadia, Crimea, when he departed recently from Petrograd, but had started for general headquarters to say farewell to his officers.

This apparent freedom allowed the ex-ruler aroused certain sections of

COULD BE BANISHED.

LONDON, March 24, 3:25 a. m.—"The Grand Duke Nicholas Michaelovitch," says a Times' despatch from Petrograd, "was banished to his estates in December for telling Emperor Nicholas the truth concerning the situation and for denouncing the Rasputin scandal."

"The Grand Duke relates how he was moved much more during the conversation than the emperor and when, fearing he had gone too far, he said to the emperor: 'Now call your Cossacks, have me killed and buried in your garden,' the emperor merely smiled and thanked him."

Kaiser's Abdication Forecast Menaced by Home Enemies "J Accuse" Author's Views

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEADERS WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, March 24.—The abdication of the German emperor is forecast by the author of the celebrated book, "J Accuse," in an interview published in Oeuvre.

He says: "The Kaiser is obsessed by the thought that he is responsible for the war, a thought which poisons his whole existence. He feels that he is menaced by three enemies at home, without counting those abroad."

"First is the Crown Prince, the real author of the war; second is the Junker Pan-Germanist—you cannot imagine the smouldering hatred of this element for those who believe to be the maniacs who are driving him into an abyss; third are the people, not the Socialist party, but the people who are starving and who feel, are growing in number, and rising little by little against those who organized the war."

KAISER IS OVERTHROWN.

"The other day at the meeting of the parliamentary presidents and the ministers of the federal sovereigns, at which the submarine war was decided upon, the struggle between the Kaiser's party and that of Von Tiritz was bitter. The Kaiser's party was against the emperor was so great, however, that he was obliged to submit and pretend that he was convinced. In particular he was personally opposed to a break with President Wilson, but he was forced to consent. Documents will be published one day which will prove that secretly he did everything not to bring America down upon him, and that he considers that the rupture was an irreparable mistake. The failure of the submarine war will soon show that he was right, but it will be too late."

PEOPLE FEARED MOST.

"The people he fears most are the anti-militarists, anti-Prussians and Liberal Republicans, who want the emperor to be based on universal suffrage. That is why Wilhelm is so anxious to convince the nation that he did not want war. All his protestations are made to appease the Liberals and his frightened and ruined subjects whose murmurings are growing stronger. He wants to continue popular at any price and that is why he spoke the words of cowardice which people were grateful for it, but the submarine war came and spoiled everything."

It is hard to realize how this emperor, who enjoyed a popularity unexampled in our history, suffers in his pride. He alone, perhaps, in Germany knows the Socialists and the working men's party, and they began to clamor against it.

The arrival of Nicholas Romanoff, the former Czar of Russia, is described by the Russian press, which is the only newspaper to editorialize on his arrest and which declares that the events put an end to the Russian empire. The country, the newspaper says, was in a state of only when the former emperor has disappeared forever from Russian life.

The editorial follows:

UNDER GUARD.

"Yesterday Nicholas Romanoff was brought to Tsarskoye-Selo and put under a strong guard. Thus the first part of the dynastic tragedy ended. The ruler of the world, who was the danger to arise from such behavior toward the 'anointed of God' have been silenced."

The arrest was made after the saying of good-bye to the citizens, soldiers and officers, who listened unresponsively to their former emperor. Red flags floated proudly over the free army of Russia. They must have felt much to the former emperor, who had not a single cheer from the assembled soldiers. Instead, the thundering Marseillaise concluded the pitiful farewell."

"At this point, loudly that there can never be a return to the old days. All that is dead, and its death is personified in the person of the former emperor, a prisoner waiting for his fate to be declared by a revolted people."

DUKE BANISHED.

LONDON, March 24, 3:25 a. m.—"The Grand Duke Nicholas Michaelovitch," says a Times' despatch from Petrograd, "was banished to his estates in December for telling Emperor Nicholas the truth concerning the situation and for denouncing the Rasputin scandal."

"The Grand Duke relates how he was moved much more during the conversation than the emperor and when, fearing he had gone too far, he said to the emperor: 'Now call your Cossacks, have me killed and buried in your garden,' the emperor merely smiled and thanked him."

Wireless men wanted

Greatest demand in thirty years for all classes of operators

Prof. S. F. Mora, head of Marconi School of Wireless Telegraphy conducted by the Polytechnic College at 1310 Madison St., Oakland, has been requested to train 40 young men for service at the earliest possible moment. Railroad and Commercial Telegraph Companies are short of men and need hundreds of new recruits. Many land positions require a knowledge of both Morse and Wireless—and the College has decided to give a full course of both Morse and Wireless together for $75.00. (Six months required for complete course.)

MERMAIDS TO VIE IN QUARTER MILE

Miss Frances Cowells, the Pacific Coast champion mermaid, will swim for the second holding of the Indoor Yacht Club's 400-yard plaque and, incidentally, endeavor to establish a new world record for the 100-yard race. She has been swimming very fast under water in the Alameda tank swim, and last week in the Alameda tank swim she swam in close to 2 minutes. She will strike at Olga Dorfner's national record of 1:22.5.

In San Francisco and Oakland there are seven swimming girls who will give Miss Cowells an interesting race. Mrs. J. J. Jones, who swam into second place over Miss Goodman, the Golden Gate champion, last year in the first Indoor Yacht Club race, has been swimming very fast under water in the Alameda tank swim, and last week in the Alameda tank swim she swam in close to 2 minutes. She will strike at Olga Dorfner's national record of 1:22.5.

Miss Alice Goodman, the Spark Club's girl, will enter the race, and is favored by many to give Miss Cowells a hard tussle. She is an open-water swimmer who has been beaten by turns. The fact that there will be but four turns in the quarter-mile swim will help her a lot. Miss Goodman, who has a great fish-like spirit, and if she is close enough to the field she will make it interesting for the leaders.

Romonoff a Cinch for Scissors Wonder

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—Joe Stecher, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, brought his famous body scissors into play again and defeated Col. Romanoff in a straight fall at the Shrine Auditorium here last night. The champion required fourteen minutes and six seconds to accomplish the feat and six minutes of actual wrestling to end the second with a combination half Nelson and body scissors. The contestants rolled through the ropes in the second clash and Romanoff severely wrenched his arm. Two minutes were allowed the athletes to return to the mat.

SEALS LACK THE OLD PUNCH; LEAVE RUNNERS ON THIRD BASE

INSIDE STUFF BY BILLY FITZ

THE Seals seem to lack the punch. That is the consensus of opinion of the critics who have watched their work against the Chicago Cubs. The club is slow and unsteady, fairly steady in its work, plodding and unspectacular, but lacking the driving power which is indispensable in a winning outfit.

With many chances to win yesterday's contest against the Cubs, Wolverton's team was not able to turn the trick. In the third inning, three infield bluffs failed to produce a run, while in the sixth, Maisel opened with a triple, hugged his station while Shortstop Wolfe fumbled a ground ball, and was left stranded on the runway when Downs, Koerner and Hollywood all fanned. Again in the eighth, Pick hit for three bases but Downs could not bring him home. It took two hits and a sacrifice fly for young Hollywood to make the circle with the Seals' only run.

As indicative of the lack of speed among the Seals, five of them were thrown out trying to steal, and two double plays were pulled against a run. The Cubs were not a whole lot better at that for they did not earn a run.

Errors by Downs and Hollywood permitted the Chicago men to cross the plate twice. Big Jim Vaughn and McTigue pitched for the Cubs against Rudy Kallio and Red Oldham for the Seals. The pitchers all had a lot of stuff on the ball. The Cubs plan to leave here Sunday night, and will make their first stop at Miami, Arizona.

How Can They Pick the Angels to Repeat When Chance Hasn't Picked His Team Yet?

Some scribes are picking the Angels, quite confidently as the pace-setters of the Coast League this year. It is one of the mysteries of the training camp, how the club picked as yet. True he has practically an intact pitching staff, but he has lost his clean-up artist and best all-around ball player in Harry Wolter, and his outfield is bound to be weakened even if he gets Wade Killefer, whose acquisition is by no means certain. Harry Maggert is a veteran, and Maggert's value in view of last year's slump is problematical.

Chance loses batting strength at first in replacing Koerner with Gus Gleichmann; he has picked up Gardner, a free agent from the American Association, to fill in at second, has Joey Schultz at third, and Bobby Davis, or Barney Conifrey, a Cub catcher, as his shortstop. Bole and Bessler will do the catching. The club has been changed as much as the Angels can hardly be figured on to repeat as pennant winners without first having shown its caliber.

Mervin Jacobson, Outfielder Used by Cubs Yesterday, Is Being Sought by the P. L.

Mervin Jacobson who played left field for the Cubs yesterday is the young artist who is sought by Frank Chance as an outfielder in the event that Wade Killefer is retained by Joe Tinker, or sold elsewhere than to Los Angeles. Jacobson was procured by the Cubs from the San Francisco Giants. He is a left hand hitter, a fast man on his feet, and possesses a good whip. Rolfe Zeller put Frank Chance up to the young player. Jacobson was used as the lead off man for the Cubs yesterday and withdrawn in the sixth to permit a player named Smith to exercise himself. Smith's first name was not revealed, and possibly it is just as well as all he did was miff a pop fly that went his way.

Del Howard Will Soon Have to Conduct a Bargain Sale of Outfield Talent

Del Howard finds himself so overstocked with outfielders that he will soon have to conduct a bargain sale. It is one of the mysteries of the training camp, how the club picked as yet. True he has practically an intact pitching staff, but he has lost his clean-up artist and best all-around ball player in Harry Wolter, and his outfield is bound to be weakened even if he gets Wade Killefer, whose acquisition is by no means certain. Bill Leard Has Visions of a Seattle Pennant; Preparing to Go North With His Players

"Bad Bill" Leard, who has long since reformed and is now a dignified and studious manager, has visions of copping the Northwestern League pennant. This year with his Seattle tribe, Leard has been wintering in Oakland, and he and Nick Williams have had quite a merry duel over the bush talent in this vicinity. Both managers would like to relieve the Oaks of a few young pitchers, but it looks as though Butte and Charley O'Leary's Texas club would continue to draw the surplus Oak timber.

Leard left a week before he held a press conference for Seattle. With him went Rube Gardner, Renny Bevins, "Dutch" Rock, Clark Boldt and the Chicago shortstop, Ayau. The last named is due here from Honolulu on March 28. Leard has been disillusioned regarding the Celestial wonder. He has discovered that there is little Oriental flavor about the player. Ayau can't even speak Chinese, but he has a good ball, and that is the main thing in this vicinity. Both managers would like to relieve the Oaks of a few young pitchers, but it looks as though Butte and Charley O'Leary's Texas club would continue to draw the surplus Oak timber.

Both managers would like to relieve the Oaks of a few young pitchers, but it looks as though Butte and Charley O'Leary's Texas club would continue to draw the surplus Oak timber.

Leard left a week before he held a press conference for Seattle. With him went Rube Gardner, Renny Bevins, "Dutch" Rock, Clark Boldt and the Chicago shortstop, Ayau. The last named is due here from Honolulu on March 28. Leard has been disillusioned regarding the Celestial wonder. He has discovered that there is little Oriental flavor about the player. Ayau can't even speak Chinese, but he has a good ball, and that is the main thing in this vicinity. ANGELS ASSUME SPRING FEATHERS

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—The past week has seen the Los Angeles club develop from an uncertainty into something that approaches a full-fledged ball club.

The announcement that E. M. Gardner had signed, supplementing the arrival of Pete Standridge and Emil Meusel from the Cubs, made an occasion long to be remembered.

Gardner, premier second baseman of the American Association, sold himself to Los Angeles, following brief negotiations. Gardner could not seem to get along with Roger Connor, and recently bought his release. Then he placed himself on the market, knocking himself down to the highest bidder, who happened to be President Powers. He is now believed to be on his way to Los Angeles. According to reliable sources from Sparta, Ill., received by Secretary Weber, the player boarded a train for his city last night, and there is every reason to believe that the train has bogged down. Sparta is the winter home of Gardner, and he sometimes sticks around there in the spring.

NEARLY DONE.
By securing Gardner Chance has done much to relieve the internal situation, and practically completed the club. Judged by past records and the testimony of Charley Hall and Wade Killefer, former association players, Gardner is a whiz around the bases.

Last season he topped the second basemen of that circuit, not only in percentage, but in the number of bases accepted, while in 1915 he ranked second among the keystones. He hit 264 last season and stole thirty-two bases. He is normally a heavier hitter, and had a mark of 287 in 1915.

Gardner is a seasoned, smart player, and apparently just the man needed to round out the Los Angeles infield, which this year will combine defensive and offensive strength in its lineup. If Chance secures Killefer, the one man needed, he will have a team which on paper looks like a contender.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Governor Stephens' message to the legislature is also a message to all the people of California and it covers very important subjects. The Governor addresses himself to live issues and to essentials with admirable directness and a minimum of adulatory digression.

California's relation to the present international crisis necessarily took first place in the Governor's consideration of the problems before the legislature. His warning to make ready for any emergency must not go unheeded unless the people are willing to assume the big risk of having to learn the lesson of preparedness through suffering.

"It is clearly manifest that should war ensue we must be prepared not only to contribute our just share to the protection of the whole nation, but we must from our own resources stoutly defend our borders against invasion. As Americans we must suffer no hostile step upon our soil." In this statement Governor Stephens described the duty of the legislature and the people and showed a full appreciation of the perils which confront this state.

It is necessary to reinforce our patriotism with efficiency, the Governor warned, and he recommended that close attention be given to preparation of the individual for military service and the mobilization of the State's resources. Impending events may make it necessary to provide an emergency appropriation, he said, and "with no desire to unduly alarm, we must recognize the gravity of the situation and be prepared for prompt and vigorous action."

Governor Stephens properly refrained from going into detailed suggestions for the legislature at this time, but his general remarks on the situation mainly indicate what is expected of that body and of the citizenship of the State.

Action should now be taken which will obviate all delay when the State's physical resources are summoned to the defense of the country and that long section of the nation's frontiers of which California is the first line of defense against assault from without.

This will mean more than recruiting the National guard to its required strength and providing it with necessary equipment. It will involve the financing of operations, emergency help and equipment, food production and conservation, an industrial survey, the coordination of the work of the aid societies, transportation, State protection, publicity, etc. A plan for the performance of all these tasks should be prepared and made ready for execution. It may not be within the power of the legislature to do this within a short time, but that body should make the effort. The State government should accept and invite the cooperation of the citizens. California must be ready for all emergencies.

It is gratifying that Governor Stephens performed the duty of calling attention to the urgent necessities of the situation as soon as the opportunity was offered. Other States have taken longer steps in preparation than California, but the people of none other are more patriotic. The Governor's first message will meet with an enthusiastic response.

TWO VIEWS.

The march of events enables a comparison between two important statements on present and future world policies related to and finding their inspiration in the European war. To place them in juxtaposition obviates the necessity for comment.

On January 22nd last, President Wilson broke all American precedent by addressing the Senate on the question of international policies and there in enunciated his doctrine of peace without victory. This speech was of unusual importance, because it coincided in time and temper with the President's request to the belligerents for their terms of peace.

Early in February Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, commander of the British forces in France, described to a group of correspondents the objects of the war from the allied side. This "interview" may be accepted as official, because it was afterwards confirmed in the British Parliament in the course of a controversy over the propriety of the

Now the statements of the American view and the British view on the nature of a satisfactory peace:

By President Wilson: "They [previously stated considerations] imply first of all a peace without victory. . . . Victory would mean peace forced upon the loser, a victor's terms imposed upon the vanquished. It would be accepted in humiliation, under duress, at an intolerable sacrifice and would leave a sting, a resentment, a bitter memory upon which terms of peace would rest not permanently but only as upon quicksand."

By Field Marshal Haig: "If Germany cannot be completely beaten this year, let us not hesitate to continue the war. For the sake of our own tranquility and for the security of the world, there must be no peace without victory, without complete victory; for an incomplete victory, a lame and premature peace, would leave military Germany the possibility of preparing a terrible revenge in the very near future."

AT THE MERCY OF A MONOPOLY.

Here is another message from Japan. Freight rates from Hongkong, China, to the Pacific Coast of the United States have been advanced 25 percent, with the two exceptions of rice and silk. Freight on rice has been increased 50 percent, and silk comes in at the old rate. Rice, which has in the past been transported across the Pacific for $10 a ton, will now have to pay $15, which will provide an excuse for dealers to make an equal or larger increase in the retail price. We are now buying large quantities of Asiatic rice and the new freights will mean that importers in the United States will have to make largely increased payments.

The principal reason given for raising shipping rates in the Pacific is that it is necessary to shut out much cheap cargo from Oriental ports. Rice is in demand and must be had at almost any price, so the rate is raised $5 a ton. Other expensive items, necessary to American consumers, are to have the right of way, but at increased cost. The cheaper cargo is to remain at home. It goes into the local market and reduces living costs there, while living in the United States is increased.

This economic adjustment, the short end of which is held by the United States, has been dictated by the trans-Pacific shipping conference, an organization composed of the following shipping companies: Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Osaka Shosen Kaisha, Toyo Kisen Kaisha, Ocean Steamship Company, Japa-China-Japan Line, Bank Line, Canadian Pacific Ocean Service, China Mail Steamship Company, China Mutual Steam Navigation Company, Royal Mail Steam Packet Company and Frank Waterhouse Company. Japanese lines control seventy-five percent of the traffic to the United States. They are the dominating element in this conference with the steamship lines of Japan's political and military ally, Great Britain.

This latest movement of the Japanese shipping monopoly is not the only move against the interest of the United States. There have been previous boosts in freight rates and the monopoly has effected the transfer of much of the foreign commerce passing through California ports to Seattle.

The information on which the above is based is contained in an official report from Consul General Anderson of Hongkong, dated February 1 and published in a Department of Commerce bulletin of March 17. It is respectfully referred to the members of Congress who voted for, and the President who signed, the La Follette seaman's bill and thus made Japan a gift of the monopoly of the trans-Pacific shipping business.

VOCATIONS FOR WOMEN.

That opportunities of earning a livelihood are being presented to women of academic training in increasing variety is disclosed by the recent investigation of the field conducted under the auspices of the California branch of the Collegiate Alumnae. The committee specially charged with the survey conducted it along much the same lines as an investigation of the same subject by the Sage Foundation in New York two years ago. The findings are also similar, but the opportunities for woman college graduates in California seem to be more numerous than in the East.

For example, there are openings for the women academicians in such industries as squal raising, dairying, goat raising, nut culture, silk culture, landscape gardening, butterfly farming and zoological eugenic work. Trained women are in demand for positions as farm instructors for State institutions, dairy inspectors and apple-packing inspectors. They are wanted for secretarial work in the business and literary field; in social service, in religious and charitable organization; in recreation work; in various public undertakings in human service, such as industrial welfare, industrial insurance, housing and immigration, social insurance, mothers' pensions and juvenile court and police work. Independent business enterprises, such as cafeterias, tea shops, etc., are recommended to some.

In fact, the opportunities are found to be unlimited. This signifies that the demand for the college-trained young women is increasing; their worth in every line of business fitted for women is appreciated. No longer can it be said that the only practical advantage of a college education is to equip teachers for the public schools. While it is true that about 40 percent of the graduates of State-aided universities go into the teaching field, the proportion that look forward solely to teaching is decreasing. It will decrease much more rapidly from now on, since women have discovered that other vocations are calling them, and in which are to be found fairer prospects for individual success and fame.

NOTES and COMMENT

The "man up a tree" is no longer a mere figure of speech. Mr. Green of Piedmont, who took to the timber to escape a charging bull, and had to tarry in its upper reaches for hours, can explain.

Technical education in Richmond comprehends lessons in cobbling. A good cobbler may be a useful person, but there are things to be said on the general subject of running fads in the ground.

A handful of independents, so-called, who thought they were going to teeter as the balance of power in Congress give evidence of surprise that the Republican and Democratic members have sunk their differences sufficiently to thwart this game. Another instance of vaulting ambition attempting the too-big leap.

Thoughtful people realize that the repetition of such an act as the dynamiting of the Lusitania just at this juncture would bring deplorable results to a large division of residents. American people are tolerant, but human nature is only broadened in them, not eliminated.

A realization has at last come of the desirability of regulating the sale of firearms. The Marks bill has been put through and is now before the Governor. It passed the Senate 62 to 2, showing the general feeling on the subject.

The people have not yet had enough of the recall measure in its raw state, as the effort to amend it so that it would not be a mere club in the hands of a few or an individual with a malignant or interested purpose, has failed.

The Colusa Sun comments: "The governor, it is said, will send a suggestive message to the legislature this week. Most of them will be pleased to feel that they are free after being commanded to do everything that the former governor called on them to do whether they approved it or not."

The Mediation bill has been reported out of the Assembly committee unfavorably. It was a mild attempt to make it so that strikes on public utilities might not result in the maximum harm, but that it did not get favorable consideration illustrates the difficulty of averting trouble in labor disputes.

The Pacific Coast is reassured by a despatch from Miami, Florida, conveying the news that Ping Bodie got two hits.

Bulletin on the advances of civilization from the Marysville Appeal: "Gerber is a growing town and is becoming a civilized place, too. A Red Bluff paper announces that Toy Lee has purchased the Gerber laundry and is going to do first-class work from now on."

Human nature is demonstrated in the sudden acceleration of enlistment due to the prospects of war. The average man wants something doing when he takes his life in his hand.

Three classes must be enjoying the situation in Russia: Those who under the old regime had the status of political offenders, the persecuted Jews and the oppressed Finns. Siberia is yielding up large numbers of her ablest population.

Those countries which declare a willingness to mediate between this country and Germany may have good intentions but their sense of proportion is not keen. At that they ought to be able to see that they do not make a hit.

A bill has been introduced aimed at tipping the Legislature that has not looked at this practice is not remembered; but the instances in which it has been in the least affected by law are scarcer yet.

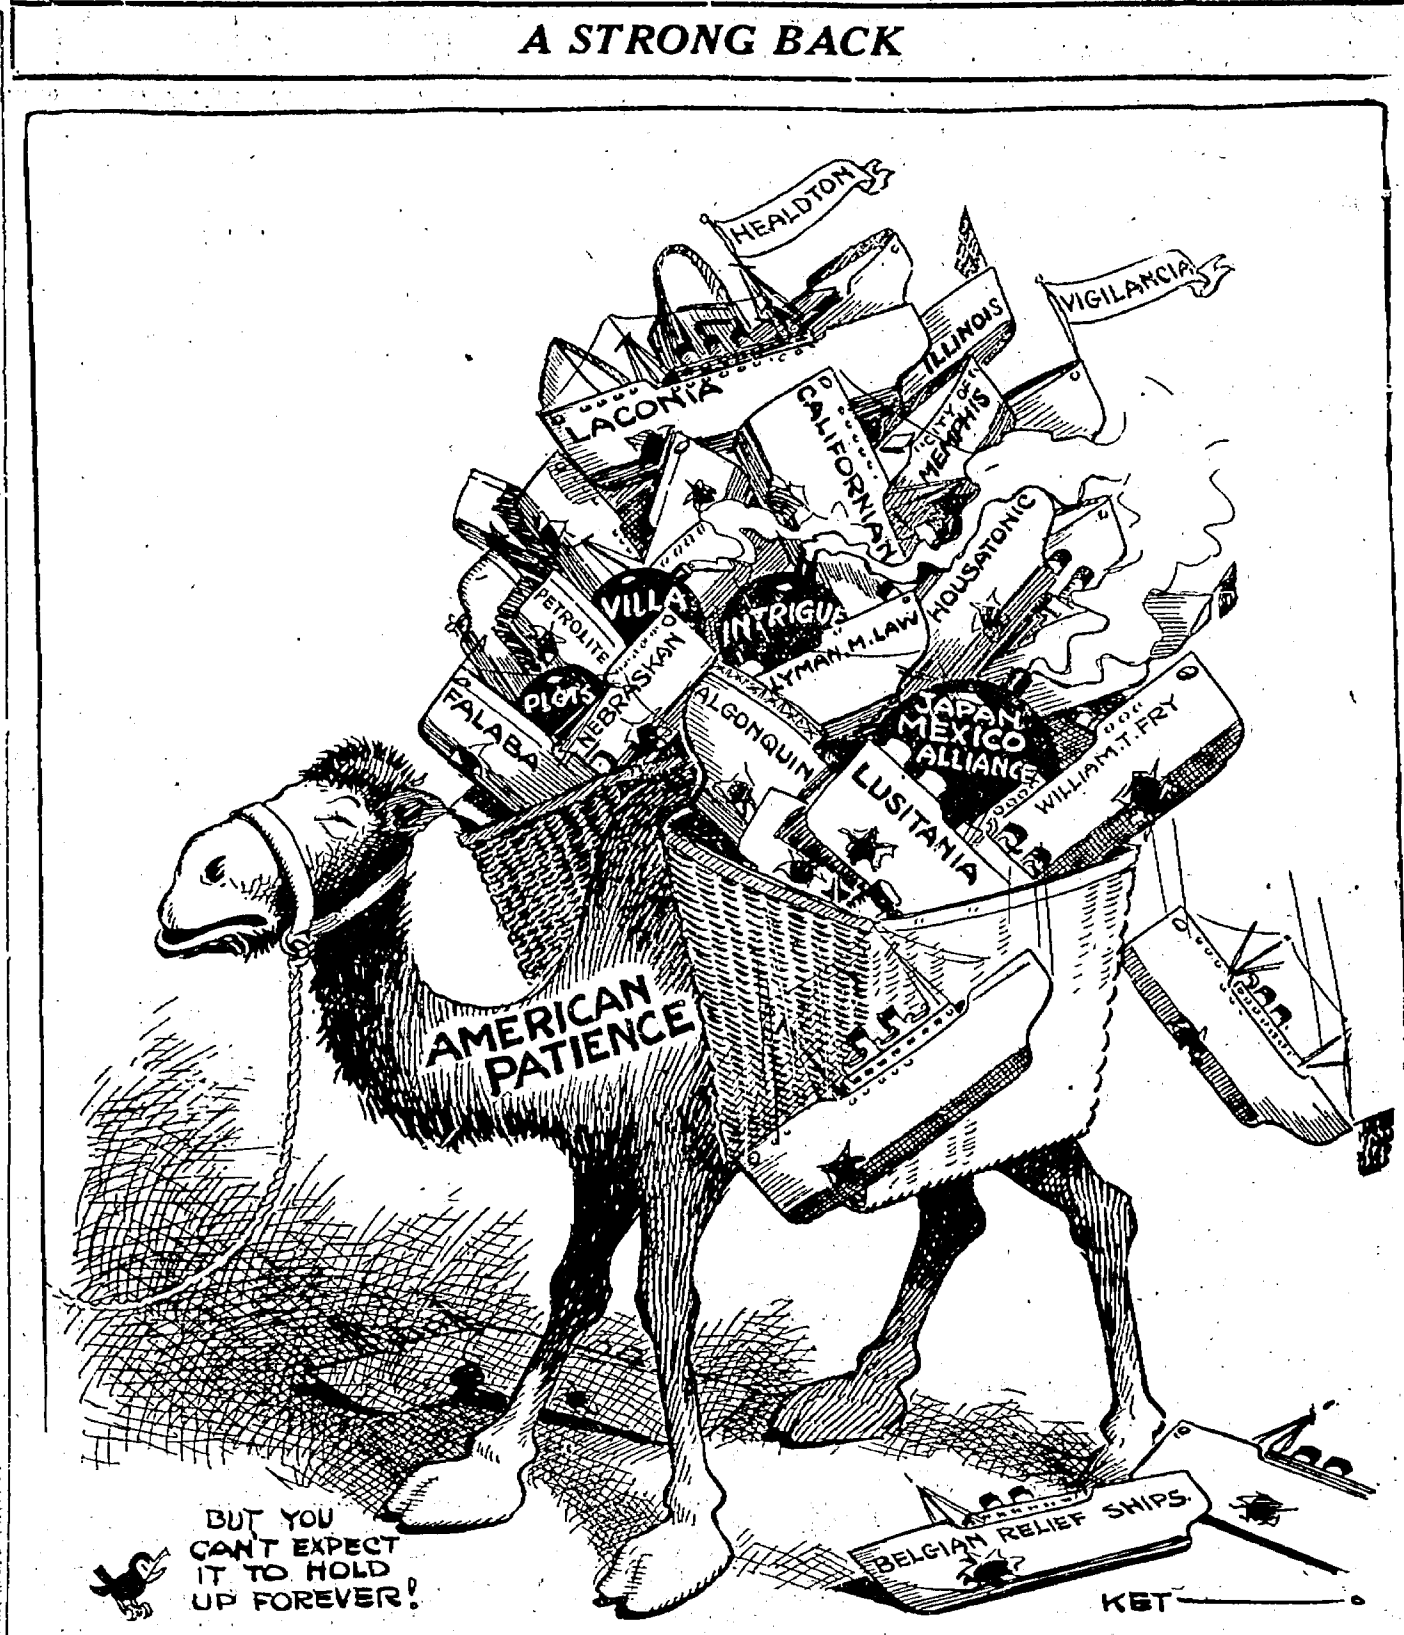

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Superintendent Clifford Dennis, of the St. John Mining Company, which has been disposing of a considerable quantity of quicksilver to Japan, has announced that shipments have been temporarily discontinued. No reason was given. Quicksilver at the present time is selling at $120 per flask. New machinery, including a couple of new Diesel engines, has been installed and the employees are now in a position to mine the ore more rapidly than has been the case in the past—Vallejo Times.

In regard to the proposition of keeping dogs which have bitten human beings for a period of two weeks before killing them in order to determine if they are affected with rabies, City Physician Lindsay explains that this is an order of the State Board of Health. It is not intended to permit the owner of a dog that has made an onslaught and bitten a human being to keep him during a subsequent period of observation, but to remove the brute to the city pound and there to watch his antics to determine if he has the rabies. No one will object to this arrangement, as the vicious beast will be killed whether he has rabies or not.—Sacramento News.

Coyotes, wild cats, and other enemies of squirrels, gophers, etc., are being rapidly exterminated. This is largely accountable for the increased number of the latter pests. Poisoned grain is no doubt the easiest and best means of accomplishing their destruction. This work should be done during a spell of good weather in the early spring, as at that time the squirrel's appetite is keen and there is a scarcity of other available food. Too, the mother is taken, before the young are born. Female squirrels have but one litter a year, the young being born in April or May; the number of young in a litter vary from three or four to twelve, the average is about eight.—Yreka Journal.

The adverse decision of a United States postal inspector, who ruled against free delivery for Auburn because of lack of sidewalks and numbers on the homes is a valuable pointer for Chico, Yreka and Chapman-town.—Chico Enterprise.

HE HAS TAMED HIS WIFE.

Uncle Green's wife has never said a cross word to him. She has plenty of fight in her, and he does enough to make her kill him, but she never abuses him. When he reaches home, after spending her last dollar on his friends, he says: "After what I have done you shouldn't have let me come into the house. Here I am married to the best woman in the world, and then I go and act like a dog. You work like a slave and then I go, act this way. It is a pity that such a woman shouldn't have gotten a man worthy of her. The way I have acted ever since we married, and the way you have worked and worried, it is a wonder you don't look older than your grandmother, but in spite of it all you have kept your youth, and here you are looking just as young as you did twenty years ago. I don't want you to give me any supper. It will be more than I deserve if you'll let me go to sleep hungry on the back porch. I'll declare, Maggie—is that you, Maggie? You are looking so young that I couldn't believe my eyes. And Maggie, while I don't ask it, if you want to give me a little sip of tea, it will help me wonderfully. But I know I don't deserve it any more than I deserve such a good wife." Then she says to him: "You have your faults, I guess, but you are far ahead of the average husband for all that, and now you sit here and warm yourself good while I go heat up the supper. We didn't have anything but bread and tea tonight, but if you think you'd like it, I'll broil you a piece of bacon."—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

AFTERWARD.

Will young Dr. Cary T. Grayson enjoy his Rear Admiral's uniform in the presence of any one of the six or seven score of honorable officers who have been defrauded for his benefit? We can't believe that when the first elation of the personal victory has passed there will not be moments when the Rear Admiral's uniform seems not quite so splendid as a thing after all.

That is, supposing young Rear Admiral Grayson has not put on, along with his new uniform, the moral integument of a pachyderm.—New York Sun.

FORGETFUL.

He called for a city beautiful: He shouted it day by day: He wanted a city where noise was not, Where the spirit of art should sway: He wanted a city that should be fair, Where fifth might never be seen, And forgot, in spite of the zeal he had, To keep his back yard clean.—The Congregationalist.

SWINDLED BY TOUTS; STOLE BANK'S COIN

Confessed Embezzler Tells of Frantic Efforts to Recoup His Losses at Tia Juana Track

Attempted to Buy Opium; Got Molasses; Finally Persuaded
by Young Bride to Confess

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—Ance C. Boyett, whose confession of an alleged defalcation of about $35,000 from the Bank of Italy branch here was made public yesterday, told today, according to authorities, how Tia Juana racing track swindled him out of $4000 playing upon his feverish race to retrieve gaming losses and restore bank funds. Within ten days, he told his questioners, he had bought for $6000 a suitcase which he was told contained opium he could sell for $50,000. The "opium" proved to be colored molasses.

This sum of $6000 was mentioned in Boyett's confession as the largest amount taken from him according to the district attorney's office. It was his last effort to win back the missing bank funds.

The fact that even a large suitcase could not hold but a fraction of $50,000 worth of opium, authorities said, apparently was not realized by Boyett. It was cited as one of several instances that caused racing tout operators here to give the young bank bookkeeper the nickname of "The Betting Fool of Broadway," according to the police, who were today busy running down the trail of Boyett's lavish spending.

WIFE TELLS STORY.

"He made a bet and lost, then kept on trying to get even," she said. "We lost on his meager salary and the money went to the gamblers."

That was the last chapter in a story told to the authorities here by the 11-months bride of Ance C. Boyett, 23 years of age, who was held prisoner in the county jail here pending the issuance of a formal complaint charging embezzlement, following a voluntary confession he was alleged to have made, that he had taken funds aggregating $35,000 to $40,000 from the Los Angeles branch of the Bank of Italy, where he was employed as general bookkeeper.

Boyett's marriage here last April to Bessie Wells, a motion picture actress, was in the nature of an elopement, his wife said. She had known Boyett about four years. He was employed as a bookkeeper at the Los Angeles branch of the Bank of Italy, where he went to the Bank of Italy branch.

"My mother accompanied me when we obtained the marriage license April 21, 1916, but agreed to post-bore the wedding," she said. "I met Boyett and we decided to get married then. We kept the wedding secret for a time. I was but 17 years old."

Boyett said her husband told her three weeks ago he had lost some money betting and then broke down and told the whole terrible story.

"He made a bet and lost, then kept on trying to get even," she said. "We lost on his meager salary and the money went to the gamblers."

Boyett, according to Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, made the confession last night, twelve hours before the state bank examiner was to make an examination of the books in his department of the bank. He was accompanied to the district attorney's office by his wife, a bride of eleven months; his mother, Frank Dominguez, and told his story to Claire Woolwine, deputy district attorney, and Albert Chapelle, special investigator of the district attorney's office.

WENT TO TIA JUANA.

Boyett told the authorities that Chapelle said, he began his speculations about ten months ago and since had made regular week-end trips to Tia Juana, Mexico, where he lost large sums betting on horse racing, and could not give an accurate estimate of the total sums, but thought it was between $35,000 and $40,000. He became conscience stricken three weeks ago and had taken nothing since then, Boyett said.

Officials of the bank said the sum could not be ascertained until the books had been examined. The plaintiffs were accomplished by manipulating by a friend who had deposits, according to W. W. Douglas, assistant cashier of the bank. The methods Boyett used, Douglas said, could not be determined until after the examination was made. He said the bank had been examined twice by state examiners since Boyett was employed about seventeen months ago. Douglas said the bank was fully protected against loss by a blanket bond carried with Lloyd's insurance agency.

"Boyett came to my home Wednesday night prepared to kill himself," Attorney Dominguez said. "He was accompanied by a friend who advised him to confess. I told him to tell the district attorney all and we arranged for the meeting."

"Boyett returned to the bank Thursday and worked all day. That night, with his wife and myself, he went to the district attorney's office and told his story."

NO COMPLAINT.

Chapelle said Boyett was highly nervous, his face pale and he was unable to speak above a whisper when he began his story. The presence of Mrs. Boyett seemed to give him courage, Chapelle stated, and he told us in detail what he had done.

No complaint will be issued against Boyett until the bank officers have ascertained the amount missing. District Attorney Woolwine said. This probably will be known tomorrow.

Douglas said Boyett came to the bank with good recommendations and seemed to do his work well.

BRAVE OAKLAND GIRLS ANXIOUS TO SERVE NATION IN WAR CRISIS

Rose Davis and Alice Johnson Among the Fair
Seekers to Join Navy

While men stand on street corners and discuss the possibility of immediate warfare, Oakland girls are so anxious to serve the colors that they have begun an application siege of city recruiting quarters in the hope of being assigned to posts. Every walk of social and commercial life in Oakland is represented by women whose patriotism is other than the kind which calls for extensive conversation and little action.

Eager to aid America in the present crisis, Rose Davis and Alice Johnson, two maids of this city, whose vigor, youth and beauty have brought them a wide acquaintance in social circles, yesterday applied to officers of the recruiting ship Albattross for permission to enter the navy in some capacity.

SEEK ACTUAL SERVICE.

"I don't wish to join," said Miss Davis, "unless I can see actual service. None of this sending us to an island post, where inaction is the rule rather than the exception! If I join at all, I wish to feel that I am working for my country at this critical time."

"We are willing to do anything," smiled Miss Johnson, and Boatwain

E. W. Hill echoed that smile. "Mr. Hill tells us that Secretary of the Navy Daniels is at present contemplating immediate signature of an order allowing women seamen in the service. We care nothing for the salaries of $1.50 a day but we do care for America's prestige on the sea. If we can relieve some of the men so that they will be enabled to protect the coast lines, we believe that our efforts shall not have been in vain."

WILL MAKE AUTO TOUR.

Beginning with Sunday morning, Boatwain Hill, Coxswain J. Spriggs and Quartermaster C. Michaels of the Albattross will start an automobile recruiting and propaganda tour through the Santa Clara, San Benito and San Joaquin valleys in an effort to intercept the interior in naval work and sea coast protection.

The following population centers will be visited: San Jose, Santa Clara, Los Gatos, Saratoga, Santa Cruz, Watsonville, Monterey, Gilroy, Salinas, Palo Alto, Redwood City, Menlo Park, San Mateo, Burlingame and South San Francisco. In each of these places literature will be distributed, information given and arrangements made for ambitious recruits to the navy.

SEE FAIRY PLAY

The second performance of the famous fairy play, "The Snow Queen," will be given tonight at the Oakland Auditorium theater. The opening performance this afternoon was thronged with children and their parents from all the eastern cities and for two solid hours the youngsters thrilled at the wonderful scenes depicted before their eyes. They saw all the marvelous characters of fairyland, the gorgeous Snow Queen, the witches, Peter Crow, the robber woman, Flower Fairies, Snow Flakes and many others.

The productions in Oakland have been possible by the co-operation of Commissioner H. S. Anderson, Manager George Keefe of the Auditorium, the Board of Education, the recreation department and many women's organizations with Gerda Wisner Hoffman, author and producer of the play and the prime-mover for the Children's theater in San Francisco.

MORTGAGE IN SUIT

Mortgages as handled by Gabriel Hynes of San Francisco are too costly to please Ralph Keyser, an Oakland real estate dealer, who has applied to the Superior Court for an injunction to prevent the transitory broker from foreclosing on a piece of property in Stanislaus county. Keyser declared that he mortgaged the property to Hynes for $5000. He was two days late in the payment of interest and Hynes thereupon demanded not only the interest but $485 in attorney's fees, $350 for trustee's fees and $39 for costs. Keyser refused this and Hynes files to foreclose.

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—Fearing an effort may be made to destroy the new $200,000 postoffice building in Pasadena, Pasadena Clerk Melvin O. OIL BARGE HITS ESTUARY FERRY

Fifty passengers on the harbor route ferryboat Garden City were frightened to the verge of panic shortly before midnight last night when the Associated Oil barge Santitas ploughed into the harbor ferry's side, smashing the paddle-box and putting the passenger boat's engines out of commission. The barge was about to sink, many passengers rushed to the life preservers and a few were thrown overboard. The ferry was towed to the shore and the barge was damaged, ran down the bay and anchored.

Immediately following the collision the ferry's whistle sent out the emergency call and the Southern Pacific tug Ajax hurried to the rescue. The tug towed the vessel to this side of the bay, landed the passengers and the barge was wharf at 1:20 this morning. It will take some time to make repairs. The San Francisco tug, which was damaged, ran down the bay and anchored.

WIRELESS READY

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Every navy yard and station on the Atlantic coast, with the exception of Key West, Fla., was in direct telephonic and telegraphic communication today with the office of the chief of naval operations at the Navy Department.

Key West also will soon be placed in direct touch. In case of need the system could be instantaneously extended to interior stations and those on the Pacific coast. Further extension which would bring ships at sea in radio telephonic communication with the chief of operations also could be made when necessary.

BEATEN LIKE CHILD, STATES WIFE IN SUIT

TRIBUNE BUREAU
SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—

Joseph Galini, superintendent of a local iron manufacturing, was in the habit of beating his wife Mary on the slightest provocation just as if he were disciplining a child, according to her charges filed in a divorce action today. Mrs. Galini had made her home in Oakland up to the time of her marriage. In 1906 she also is living there now at the residence of her parents. It was her refusal to return to Galini a few days ago, after he himself had shipped her home to her parents, that led him to threaten her life and cause her to determine to sue for a legal separation.

The trouble in the household began last August, when Mrs. Galini alleged her spouse would not let her visit her relatives or friends unless he was along, and beat her because she wrote a letter to her parents without his knowledge. When she attended the funeral of her god mother in Oakland over his refusal to allow her to go, she was beaten. When on Christmas day she disobeyed one of his injunctions, she was beaten and finally when she went to see Superior Judge Thomas Graham regarding her troubles she charges her husband learned of the fact and similarly punished her.

SUIT TO ATTACK AEROPLANE RIGHTS

TRIBUNE BUREAU
SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—

The Wright Brothers, hitherto secure in position as arbiters of aeroplane manufacture and collectors of royalties from all firms and persons making airplanes, are to be assailed and perhaps deluged by a suit to be filed soon in Washington by Mrs. Reginald Clearmont Montgomery, Mrs. Zach Montgomery, Richard J. Montgomery, of Oakland and other surviving relatives of the late John J. Montgomery, inventor of present day type of aeroplane, who was killed on October 31, 1911, in an experimental flight near San Jose.

If the suit is successful it will begin legal action against the Wrights for the use of the "basic" ideas of the Wrights in the design of their airplanes. The suit demands the payment to themselves of the $1,000,000 set aside by Congress for the purchase of the "basic" patents of the Wrights.

Percy W. Long, former city attorney of San Francisco, is the legal counsel employed by the Montgomerys. He believes that we can convince an investigation which would show that the Wrights have been holding the Montgomery patents, and I feel confident that the royalties due the Montgomerys as well as the license fees can be recovered in court.

It is also confident that the Montgomerys hold the trump cards, for he has applied for a manufacturing license which would enable him to manufacture any airplane he desired. He signed a contract yesterday in which he agrees to pay the Montgomerys a royalty on every machine he makes.

BUNDY TO SPEAK

Bundy comes from the Mexican border, where he has been for several months lecturing in the principal military camps. The lecture is free to the public.

FUTURE U. S. METROPOLIS VISUALIZED

Dr. Frederic C. Howe Tells His Audience at Auditorium of Oakland's Natural Beauties

"Planner of Future" Draws a
Mind Sketch of Procedure to Be Taken to Create Haven

Visualizing "cities of tomorrow" of from ten to fifty million inhabitants, living under ideal conditions made possible by municipal control of political, industrial and civic development generally, Dr. Frederic C. Howe, Commissioner of Immigration at the Port of New York and an expert in city planning, gave his views of how cities should be built and governed in an address under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce in the Municipal Auditorium last night.

J. H. L'Hommedieu, chairman of the City Planning Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, was in charge of the evening.

"Oakland," said Dr. Howe, "embodies ideals in city planning. One thing I like about this city is the interesting irregularity of some of its streets, particularly in the hill district, where the highways follow the natural contour of the land. I noticed the same departure from the rectangular or gridiron type of American streets in Berkeley. Our cities will have to construct their streets more in this irregular, natural way before they can be beautiful."

BEAUTY OF LAKE MERRITT.

"Lake Merritt is one of the most beautiful of Oakland's natural advantages. I compare the lake to one in Frankfurt, Germany, around which are built quaint restaurants and resorts. Lake Merritt, I believe, would also be more appreciated if its beauties were combined with social attractions in the form of a park."

"Oakland," like many other American cities, ought to have five times the parking space that it now possesses," advised Dr. Howe. "If we around Oakland, and land which should be owned by the city. Oakland might take a lesson from New York and other big eastern cities which put off buying land until it was too late. Penuriousness in municipal expenditures is a mistake. It is a fault of American cities. City budgets should be more expansive, although the benefits might not be realized for years. Municipal indebtedness should be limited to $50 per capita and ranges from $100 to $200 in European cities."

CITIES OF TOMORROW.

"The city of tomorrow is to be the controlling thing in our civilization. Civilization never amounted to anything until it was only rural. The trend will be from the country to the city. People want to be together and to enjoy education, music, art and the other advantages of city life," he continued.

"Again, we can only have the city of tomorrow when we regulate and control property in the public interest and compel privilege to how to the city. At present, the city is run by all classes with the city until we end the struggle within the city for the valuable franchises, which are the principal sources of corruption in the American city. I know of no large city in America in which the public service corporations are not among the chief obstacles. The city of tomorrow will own its own public utilities, its water and electric light and gas, its own police and fire departments, its own abattoirs, build public markets, and will even sell milk to the public."

FUTURE CITY BUILDING.

"City building of the future will follow a well conceived plan, which will mean a radical departure from the buying of plenty of land for parks and playgrounds when land is cheap, the beautifying of the suburbs and the elimination of slums and tenements."

Dr. Howe suggested taxation of land values as the best means of raising revenue. He showed where European cities were taking the speculative profits which come from the growth of population and turning them into the city treasury. "Many cities in western Canada," he explained, "have abolished all taxes on industry, manufactures and houses and are collecting their revenues from the taxation of land values."

"American cities in many respects are the best in the world," concluded Dr. Howe. "They have unexcelled educational facilities, their parks and playgrounds are as good if not better than anywhere else. Some of our cities have approximated the ideal of a model city. They are being built for people, administered for people and as a consequence they are being made attractive to business and industry as well."
